General Sherman's Annual Report.

The Inadequacy of Our Small Army Deprecated.

Report of Lieut. Gen. Sheridan

The Black Hills Expedition Pronounced a Successful Reconnoissance.

Supreme Court Decisions.

WASHINGTON, November 9, 1874.

General Sherman's Annual Report to the Secretary of War shows the total number of enlisted men in the army on October 15 to have been 28,441. It estimates that this number will probably be reduced through natural causes by the 1st of January, 1875, to the 25,000 allowed by law. It deprecates the inadequacy of so small an army for the demands of so large an area of territory as it has to be scattered over, involving the necessity of withdrawing troops from one department to meet the requirements of some other a long distance away. It compliments highly the efficiency of General Sheridan and his subordinate officers in maintaining comparative peace in the Indian country. It says the reports of commanding officers demonstrate that the small army of the United States called a "peace establishment" is the hardest worked body of men in this or any country. The discipline and behavior of the officers and men have been worthy of all praise, and whether employed on the extreme and distant frontier or in aiding civil officers in the execution of civil processes, have been a model for the imitation of all good men.

In regard to the removal of his headquarters to St. Louis, he says: I am prepared to execute the duties that may be devolved on me by proper authority. Here I am centrally located, and should occasion arise, I can personally proceed to any point on this continent where my services are needed.

Lieutenant General Sheridan's Annual Report touches slightly upon General Custer's Black Hills expedition, which it pronounces a successful reconnoissance. The country of the Black Hills was found to be much better than was expected, with plenty of good timber and considerable good soil at high altitudes, and an abundant supply of good water and grass. Some gold was found near Harney's Peak, but of its abundance there is at present no reliable information. Sufficient time could not be given by an expedition such as that of Gen. Custer's to prospect and determine its quantity. General Sheridan again recommends the establishment of a large military post in the Black Hills country.

Of the Indian troubles, General Sheridan says: I respectfully differ with General Pope as to the chief causes of these Indian troubles, and attribute it to the immunity with which tribes have been treated in all their raids into Texas for the past three years. Their depredations have furnished them supplies with which to make raids, and sheltered them from pursuit when they returned with their scalps and plunder. No man of close observation, it seems to me, can travel across the great plains from Nebraska and Wyoming to Texas, and see established ranches, with their hundreds of thousands of head of cattle, sheep and horses, together with the families of the owners, and reasonably think that these people, so much exposed, and having such valuable interests, are desirous of provoking Indian wars. There was a time, possibly, when the population of the Indian frontier may have been desirous of Indian troubles, but that has passed long ago.

Supreme Court.

Home Insurance Company versus Morse and another. Error to the Supreme Court of Wisconsin. In this case the Home Insurance Company of New York complied in writing with the statutes of Wisconsin, by which, among other things, it agreed not to remove any case commenced against it in the State Courts to Federal Courts, but upon the commencement of the present case it nevertheless moved for a transfer to a Federal Court. The Court below regarded the statute and agreement as ground for denial of the motion. This Court reversed this judgment based upon that theory, and held that neither a private citizen nor a corporate body may barter away substantial rights, and that the company was entitled to a removal notwithstanding the State law and the contract.

Justice Hunt delivered the opinion. Chief Justice Waite delivered a dissenting opinion, in which Justice Davis concurred, holding that the State had power to enact such a law placing foreign and local business and corporations in the same position as to State authority, and make all doing business in the State amenable to the same tribunals.

In the case of Spratt vs. the United States, the Supreme Court to-day affirmed the judgment of the Court of Claims, holding that the claimant, a Confederate citizen, gained no title to certain cotton by a purchase from an agent of the Confederate States, because these States were without corporate power to take, hold or convey a valid title to any property whatever, and that the claimant was chargeable with notice of treasonable intent of sale by the Confederate Government, to wit: to raise money for the purchase of munitions of war.

Justice Miller delivered the opinion. Justice Field dissented, taking the view that the pardon of the claimant reinstated him in all his civil rights, and gave him an assurance that he should stand in the courts of his country in as good condition as any of his fellow-citizens who had never sinned against the authority of the Government.

Trial of the Conspirators.

In the safe burlary case to-day the time to the recess was occupied in taking testimony to show the general bad character of Zirruth and Hayes. One witness admitted, under cross-examination, that Harrington had talked to him about Zirruth. Another testified that he was instructed to hunt up something against Hayes. He was told Whitely wanted to know something about him. Witness had been to Whitely's office about the case, and saw Whitely there. Whitely asked witness what information he had found about Hayes. Witness told him that he had found out that he could be hired for any kind of business, and could not be believed. Whitely said that was good.

After the recess the testimony was unimportant. Mr. Davidge requested the court to adjourn till to-morrow, to enable the defense to produce more witnesses.

Adjourned.

Washed Postage Stamps.

The Third Assistant Postmaster General, in his annual report, estimates that the proportion of washed stamps used again in payment of postage is five per cent. of the value of all stamps sold each year, causing an annual loss of $1,000,000 to the revenues of the department.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 9, 1874.

Tilton vs. Beecher.

The civil suit brought by Theodore Tilton against Rev. Henry Ward Beecher came up this morning before Judge Reynolds in the City Court of Brooklyn, which was crowded with spectators, among whom were many ladies. The plaintiff was present and sat beside his counsel, ex-Judge Fullerton, Wm. A. Beach, ex-Judge Morris and Roger A. Pryor. Mr. Beecher was absent, but was represented by General Tracy and Mr. Shearman. When the case was called, Mr. Morris answered that he was ready, but Mr. Shearman objected to the trial being commenced before the appeal had been heard on the order issued by Judge Nielson, and asked for delay so that certain papers, which were necessary in the case, should be printed. Judge Reynolds fixed the time for hearing the argument on the appeal at 2 P. M., Friday next, and the trial of the case was set down for Wednesday week, at 10:30 A. M.

District Attorney Winslow then made an application that Francis D. Moulton should plead to the indictment found against him for libeling Miss Edna Dean Proctor. Ex-Judge Fullerton, who appeared for Moulton, expressed the opinion that this matter was being pressed forward with unnecessary haste by the District Attorney, who replied that it was only taken up in its order. The counsel for Moulton then asked for a postponement until to-morrow morning, so as to put in a special plea of postponement, which was granted.

The Moulton-Proctor Libel Case.

Upon retiring from the Brooklyn City Court room to-day, Ex-Judge Fullerton visited the United States Court building, and filed the reply of Mr. Moulton to the complaint of Edna Dean Proctor in the suit for libel. The document is lengthy in the extreme. Moulton admits he knew the lady mentioned in connection with the scandal to be the plaintiff, and felt himself to be coerced by a combination of circumstances to make the statement which is deemed libelous. After Beecher's testimony it became a matter of self-defence for Moulton to make public his version of the matter.

UNIONTOWN, PA.

How Colonel Andrew Stewart Reduced Majorities in Democratic Strongholds—A Few Facts and Figures.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 7, 1874.

I notice a telegram in your issue of Friday, and it is reiterated in to-day's issue, stating that the majority in Fayette county for Jacob Turney, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Twenty-fourth District, is 1,484. Such is not the case by any means. The official returns gave him a majority of only 184, which is quite a difference. Colonel Andrew Stewart, the Republican candidate, reduced the Democratic majority from 677 in 1872 to 184—a reduction of 493. In Greene county he cut down the majority from 1635 in 1872 to 1,120—a gain of 515, or 1,008 in both counties. At this time the returns from Westmoreland county have not been received, but it is believed that Colonel Stewart's gain there, will be almost as great as in Fayette and Greene counties. It is claimed by the friends of Colonel Stewart that, under the circumstances, he made a better run than any other Congressional candidate in the State.

A Fault in the Direct Cable.

LONDON, November 9.—Advices from the steamer Fanaday state that up to 8 A. M. 1,461 miles of cable have been paid out, but at six P. M. a fault was discovered in the cable, but too late to prevent it from being passed overboard, the wind blowing a gale, and the cable was buoyed. When the cable was buoyed the Fanaday was in latitude 48 degrees 37 minutes north, longatude 44 degrees 55 minutes west. The depth of water was decreasing, the ship being one hundred and eighty miles from where it was intended to splice on the shore end.

A Denial.

PARIS, November 9.—The truth of the Spanish Government's announcement that the siege of Irun has been raised is denied by Carlists, who profess to have information that the besiegers are violently cannnading that town to-day. They also state that Don Carlos visited all the outposts yesterday. A Republican battalion has landed at Fontarabia, and a decisive action is expected to take place to-morrow.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Supreme Court Affirms the Judgment of the Court Below.

In the Supreme Court yesterday morning a decision was given in the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, operating the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Road, against James and wife. This was an action brought by James and wife in the District Court of this county, against the Railroad Company, for damages for the death of their infant child, killed at Superior Station on the C. & P. Road last August. The Court below gave the parents sixteen hundred dollars damage, and an appeal was taken by the Railroad Company. The latter claimed that the father contributed to the negligence, and also that Councils had no power to regulate the speed of trains running through the city.

The opinion in the above case was delivered by Chief Justice Agnew, in an able manner, after which he stated that no error was discovered which ought to reverse the judgement, and accordingly pronounced it affirmed.

The Death of Rev. William Owens.

A large meeting of the Welsh citizens of this city and vicinity was held last evening in the Welsh Baptist church, Chatham street, for the purpose of expressing their sorrow in the loss of the Rev. Wm. Owens. Mr. D. A. Jones was called to the chair, and Mr. Thomas Jones elected as Secretary. A committee consisting of Ald. H. J. Thomas, Wm. Lewis, Miles S. Humphreys, Chas. Jeremy, David Lewis, I. G. Jones, Elias Powell and D. C. Davis were appointed for the purpose of drafting resolutions. During tde absence of the committee short addresses were delivered by several prominent Welsh citizens, expressive of regret and sympathy, each recognizing that the Welsh people of our city and country had lost one of their greatest men. The committee in a short time reported the following:

1st. That the friends of the family request that the remains of the deceased be removed to the church at 11 A. M., where they will remain in state until 1 P. M., when religious service will commence under the auspices of the Deacons of the church.

2d. That a procession be formed to lead the funeral, and that the Welsh citizens in Pittsburgh invites all the friends of the deceased to join them in the procession.

3d. That the procession be formed under the supervision of the committee, and as the deceased having expended forty years of active Christian life in the midst of his countrymen in this city, all are respectfully invited to lay aside the toils of the day and cordially unite in paying this last tribute to his mortal remains.

The committee presented the following:

WHEREAS, From time immemorial, the Welch people have been conspicuous for the devotion to the cause of liberty and religion. And whereas it has pleased Almighty God, in his wisdom to remove from his labor, to his reward, our beloved brother, teacher, pastor and fellow citizen Rev. Wm. Owens. Therefore be it

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the decrees of an all wise Providence, we recognize that in the death of our lamented brother and fellow citizen, the Welch people of this city and county, have lost a life devoted friend, an earnest advocate and an able pure hearted Christian teacher.

Resolved, That we tender our sincere sympathy to the family of our deceased brother, in this their sad hour of bereavement, praying that they with us may during the time yet allotted to us in this life, strive with a Christian zeal to emulate his noble example.

THOMAS JONES,
Secretary.

····Twelve per cent. on twenty-five thousand dollars is rather hard on us," was the remark of one of the innocents who endorsed the note. We will wager a big pippin the interest will absorb the principle before the eagle screams from the dome of a new Government building on Third and Fourth avenues.

····The alarm of fire yesterday evening from box 65 was caused by the burning of the roof of a frame house in Skunk hollow, near the junction of Penn avenue and Butler street. ····On Sunday evening a young man named James Finnerty assaulted Anna Smith, a young lady nineteen years of age, while on her way from church, near Mansfield, but was prevented from accomplishing his fiendish design by the interference of the neighbors, who were attracted to the spot by her cries for help. Justice Hill bound him over to Court in the sum of one thousand dollars.

····Rev. Geo. P. Hays, D. D., will deliver a lecture in the "Valley" church, Findley township, on Monday evening, November 23. Subject: "Talk, Wise and Otherwise." It was announced that the lecture would be given on Friday evening, November 20, but it has been postponed. The lecture will be free and all who wish to enjoy a rich intellectual feast, are cordially invited to attend.

····Yesterday morning a young man named John Deimling, of Allegheny, started up the Allegheny river in a skiff to go hunting, and after rowing up some distance he got out to pull the skiff over a bar. As he caught hold of the chain attached to the skiff, the end of it had caught on the hammer of his gun, and in pulling it the gun was discharged and the load of shot lodged in his right arm, near the wrist.

····Now would be a good time for Councils to inform Mr. Mullett, the Government architect, that they do not intend spending one dollar of the taxpayers' savings to grade Third and Fourth avenues. We understand that he is going to insist that the contract made with those who claimed they had influence enough to sock the city for another two hundred thousand dollars in this job, be fulfilled, or he will refuse to ask Congress for any more money. Things are working.

····The recent election has made in the prospective—several vacancies in Allegheny Councils, and the preliminary canvassing has commenced. Mr. McNeill's election leaves his seat in Select Council vacant, from the Fourth ward. Mr. Graham's seat in Select from the Second ward, will also have to be filled. For Mr. McNeill's place Mr. C. W. Anschutz is spoken of, also Mr. P. Walters, Jr. For Graham's place, Mr. Lockhart and Alfred Slack are mentioned. Mr. Straub, removing from the Third ward, leaves his seat in Common councils vacant, and Sam. Hastings, Wm. Wettach and R. B. Francis are spoken of in this connection.

····The proposition to contest the validity of the last city election is to be based on two points. 1.—That the election was not held under any election law then in existence. The election, it will be remembered, was held partly under the old election law and partly under the new law, which reduced the number of election officers. The city was not districted, nor the other provisions of the new law carried out, and this, it is claimed, renders the election void. 2.—That it was unnecessary to hold an election in 1874, as there were officers already elected for that year. In Philadelphia, it is claimed, the case was different, as there were no officers there elected for 1874. It is also claimed that the opinion of the Attorney General does not determine the validity of the election, as that functionary merely made specific answers to certain specific questions.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Dr. C. A. Holmes, formerly of this city, arrived at the Union Depot this morning from Harrisburg.

The many friends of Henry M. Long, Esq., will be sorry to learn he has been very ill with typhoid fever since the election.

Our young friend Mr. Dale B. Graham is home from Princeton on a brief vacation. Student life appears to sit agreeably upon him.

Charley Duff, although acknowledging himself a Duff-er, wishes it distinctly understood that he is not Secretary Duff of the Water Committee, nor James K. Polk Duff, who almost was District Attorney.

Wells W. Leggett, Esq., a prominent patent attorney at Washington, D. C., and a son of Gen. M. D. Leggett, is in the city. He is employed as counsel in the patent oil torpedo case of Roberts against Peck, McKenna & Co.

Mr. Hill Burgwin made his appearance in Council yesterday after a long absence, during which the vexations of municipal matters gave way with him to the pleasantries of Ritualistic and kindred discussions in the Episcopal Convention at New York.

Duff, it is said, will contest the District Attorneyship on the ground of some irregularities in certain returns. It is too bad to have a man's mouth water so close to the fruit, and then cruelly take it away from him, and any man under the circumstances would be justified in yielding to political indigestion, and vowing dreadful things.

THE man elected in Butler's district in Massachusetts, while a Democrat, announces that he will not be bound by party ties, but will represent his district carefully, looking to its welfare rather than that of party. A wise man, he.

WE have received from Arthur L. Thomas, Esq., Chief of the Document Department, at Washington, a large package of valuable Congressional documents. Mr. Thomas is one of the active young Republicans who are of real value to the party, whether in office or out.

'TWAS not all a Democratic flood. The Luzerne district, which elected Hon. W. W. Ketcham to Congress, is really Democratic by 1,000 majority, and their candidate, Hon. Hendrick B. Wright, is a popular man. Yet Mr. Ketcham was elected. It shows that the people were as much interested in men as they were in parties this year.

PERHAPS the severest blow the Granger movement has received at all has come from a non-political source. The failure of Morgan Sons, at San Francisco, has involved losses which foot up, so far as ascertained, $600,000 gold. These not only fall heavily on the farmers, but serve to destroy confidence in their agents, and will thus operate to break up combinations, and so destroy the organization.

THE Committee on Appropriations have given out that the several Executive Departments of the National Government have been kept within their appropriations during the current year, and they are about to meet to prepare the appropriation bills for the next year. As reductions were made last year, and the departments not embarrassed, they think still further reductions may be made for next year.

REPUBLICAN Congressmen will have a meeting for consultation just prior to the next regular session of Congress, to mark out a policy to be followed. We regret the inuendo contained in the report of this, that the President is suspected of a purpose of not acting with them. There is nothing in President Grant's course that renders him amenable to this implied censure. No more quarreling, gentlemen.

IT is reported that there is a fund raised to carry through Congress a bill to secure an appropriation for Government buildings on the Third avenue site. We feel very confident, rumors to the contrary, that Gen. Negley is too much interested in his future prospects to lend himself to such a project, and equally confident that such a measure can not be carried through Congress. Retrenchment and Reform are the watchwords now.

THE Chronicle thinks Mr. Cochran should be elected, irrespective of party, to fill the place of Mr. McJunkin, who has resigned. It recommends this as a method of affording that gentleman a trifle of preliminary training as Congressman. If the young gentleman is so much in need of milk, let him be fed from the Democratic spoon; but we hope the Republican party will maintain its organization and fill out Mr. McJunkin's term with another Republican.

MR. JOSEPH MEDILL reassumed, yesterday, editorial charge of the Chicago Tribune, giving at some length his reasons for placing that influential journal in full sympathy with the party. He holds that the will of the people can only be wrought out through party organization, and that there are and can be but two great parties in this country. The choice of a really earnest journal, that does not wish to fill the place of a common scold, must be with one or the other of these parties. He has no confidence in the Democracy, and therefore will act with the Republican party. It is a candid, fair editorial, and we welcome the Tribune back into Republican ranks.

WE have received from a person signing himself a Doctor of Medicine, located at a place bearing the very appropriate name of Pillsville, in Venango county, an article urging that the Government establish a United States bank at Washington, with branches in other towns, for the purpose of loaning greenbacks at three per cent. per annum, promising that thereby the balance of trade will be turned in our favor, panics prevented, and all sorts of blessings conferred. As the balance of trade is in our favor, and our correspondent evidently does not comprehend the subject of which he writes, we charitably conclude that Pillsville and its doctor are a very transparent sell.

IT would be amusing, were it not serious, to hear the strange reasons offered by persons of evident intelligence for voting against the Congressional candidates of the Republican party at the late election. We heard a very respectable-appearing gentleman, a day or two since, railing loudly at the doubtful quality of our currency, and claiming that the opening of a European war would depreciate it fifty per cent. Inquiry eventually brought out his real views, which were, that we need more in place of less tariff, as a means of preventing the influx of European manufactures, and thus securing the balance of trade in our favor. He did not profess to believe the Democracy would give us more tariff, but claimed that the defeat of the Republican party would make it more careful hereafter, when it returns to power. This shows the "influence."

THE brief telegraphic reports, received from time to time, of an extensive famine in Asia Minor, did not convey an accurate idea of the true state of things. The area covered by the famine consists of Galatia and parts of Phrygia and Cappadocia, containing some forty thousand square miles, with a population of some two millions. The history of the case, in brief, is this: The harvest of 1873 failed, and no proper measures were taken to meet the consequences while there was time, by throwing in supplies. Then came a severe winter, which blockaded the roads and destroyed cattle. The population was then obliged to draw largely upon the seed corn, and thus was able to sow only one-ninth of the usual acreage. The harvest reaped from that this year has been good, and it is supporting the population for the present, but by the 1st of November supplies would be exhausted. Thirty-five thousand deaths, it is estimated, have already occurred in the province of Angora from starvation and disease, due to insufficient food. In one village the deaths were so numerous that the Governor had to send a body of police to inter the dead, which was done by throwing them into an old well. Twenty-five thousand families have emigrated from the province, leaving many villages without an inhabitant. Appeals have been made to the British people for aid, but the Bengal famine drew heavily on them, and it is now being seriously considered whether some method should not be resorted to, to teach the people of India and Asia a more reliable system of agriculture, as a means of preventing the recurrence of famines.

IF the New York Republic has no more political sagacity than it has of knowledge even of State politics, it will never be very formidable either as a defender of the Republican or assailer of the Democratic party. It claimed, a day or two after the election in this State, that the election of Senator would be to supply "Cameron's place, whose term expires in 1876." It further wisely states that "the local fight about taxes lost the State." We are further informed that "Allegheny county did the disgraceful work, and bears the stigma of treason." There is wisdom here in bunches. We are even given the astonishing information that "the Democratic majority in Allegheny is 21,000, a loss to the Republicans of 6,000." When the Republic first appeared we simply regarded it as stupid, but we are now compelled to the conclusion that it is managed by a set of ignoramuses, and wonder how it was that persons having money were willing to entrust it to men capable of such errors. That they will succeed in swiftly spending it and leave nothing to show but a year's issue of a sheet so full of blunders as to be a disgrace to the name of journalism, is what may be confidently predicted.

THE return of Don Carlos to France marks the abandonment, on his part, of war against the Spanish Republic. He has found his resources gradually dwindling of late, and his men were deserting his cause. To save himself from capture he has abandoned Spanish soil. If the French Government does its duty, he will not be allowed to re-enter Spain, and thus his personal leadership and influence will be at an end. His men may, for a time, keep up guerrilla warfare, but it will amount to little. It is a significant circumstance that a man whose title to the throne rests on the undisputed succession to the kingly title, and possession of royal blood, has failed of success, even in Spain, as against the forces of a Republic. The world surely moves when such is the fact. Serrano at last is apparently intrenched in power, and the Republic is established. Better men than he went down in fighting for the cause. Each of the former Presidents were truer than Serrano, and we deeply regretted that Castellar could not retain power. The "Virginius" affair was the cause of his downfall, and Serrano who succeeded him and is now President will be quite likely to set up a monarchy. But Don Carlos will not be the monarch.

IT is entirely certain that we will,—as we ought,—have a new Secretary in the Water Committee, and the sooner this is accomplished the better. The unraveling of the tangle existing in the affairs of that Committee, requires the selection of a gentleman to serve in the capacity of Secretary, who in ability and probity will command the confidence of the people. The time has come when the Secretaryship of that Committee is equally important with the Committee itself. All the irregularities that have occurred, and every trouble that has arisen has had the Secretary for the central object. It is evident therefore that the Secretary plays a very important part in the affairs of the Committee; and because of this, no mere accountant or book-keeper should be allowed the place. It should only be a person known to the community as a man of integrity, capacity, and character; qualified in every way not merely to do the clerical work of the Committee, but to keep its records and affairs in a perfectly proper shape. The Committee should realize that their appointment will, in the present mood of the people, be closely scrutinized, and that in that simple operation they can make or lose character. Let a man of right qualities, and of well-known probity be selected, and they will have made a long stride in the right direction.

THE COUNCIL ELECTION.

Whatever comes of the question of electing municipal officers, we have, of course, to elect our usual instalment of Councilmen. This much is regular and right, and certain to occur. In view of it, we have several suggestions to offer: 1. The most resolute measures should be employed to secure only good and acceptable candidates on the Republican ticket. In saying this, we do not refer to those who are about going out of office. Where they are acceptable, their renomination comes within this rule, although generally speaking, we presume new men will be brought forward. In either event, only first class men, who clearly command popular confidence, should be selected. Weak, uncertain candidates will be quite sure to go under, and there is no use whatever in nominating them. 2. The various feuds that have existed, and some of which are exceedingly narrow and unreasonable, should be promptly put aside. The Republican party should not be made the football of little cliques, and we insist that whatever antagonisms and heartburnings there may be, they have no business in the contest about developing. We need Republican candidates, nominated on a basis of character and merit, and when nominated, they should be loyally supported by every fair-minded Republican voter. The people mean reform, and we might as well meet this at once by making the candidates all they should be, and then electing them.

It has been suggested that the County Executive Committee of the Republican party should be completely reorganized, and by the selection of the right stamp of men from each district, prepare the way for the complete reorganization of the party in the county. We do not join the hue and cry against the committee that had the organization in charge during the recent canvass. Where a committee has nothing with which to manage, and very little to manage, they cannot be held accountable if the results are not remarkable. The committee early felt that the people were drifting away from them, and they had neither means nor popular enthusiasm with which to work. They did as well here as was done in most parts of the State. But nevertheless defeat was suffered; and while we do not hold the committee responsible, we are sure that the effect of a new organization will be good. This done, and we will be prepared to start into the municipal canvass in much better condition than we otherwise could. With reorganization and satisfactory candidates we have no fear of the result. The over-confidence of the Democracy, and their eager anxiety to grasp power is one of the false developments made, and shows that they are overcome by the unexpected success given them by Republican votes. They are hoping to seize all power, and so rush eagerly to defeat.

Dusky Belles.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes: "There are some very beautiful colored girls here, just of that cafe au fait color so exquisite when accompanied by fine features. One pretty Creole married an officer of the Freedman's Bank, a colored man, who formerly played the piano for private Germans, &c. He built her a fine house and took her to Niagara on the bridal trip. She was married in a white satin dress, with orange blossoms and a tulle veil. Another girl, so nearly white that the African blood would never be suspected, was highly educated, and has eyes large and lustrously black, like those of the Spanish women; her hair as purple as the raven's wings; her complexion creamy, with the faintest suspicion of couleur de rose; her lips full and scarlet; her hands wonderously tiny. Her father intended to take her abroad, where his pedigree was unknown, for if discovered foreigners would not show the horror of negro blood evinced by Americans; then he hoped his daughter's beauty, accomplishments and wealth might attract Caucasian wooers. But, alas, for his fond hopes, true to her race, she married a black man, son of a restaurateur, and broke her father's heart, as well as his pride."

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

SAMUEL BRACKMAN, a prominent citizen of Clarksville, Tenn., committed suicide last Sunday night by hanging.

THERE were in New York city during the past week 535 deaths and 523 births, 166 marriages and 41 still births.

THE Millerites have settled on the 20th of the present month as the day on which mundane things generally are to end, and the Chosen be carried up in chariots of fire. But Mr. Terry lost so much poultry last year, he won't rent 'em his island again on any terms, and the Saints will have to find some other spot to ascend from.

SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE THOMPSON, of Columbus, Ohio, recovered from two thieves a satchel containing railroad bonds and valuable papers, contracts and specifications valued at several thousand dollars. This satchel is the property of John M. Day, a railroad contractor, residing at Des Moines, Iowa, and was stolen from a car about ten days ago.

AT Milwaukee, Wis., on Monday morning, a woman named Stieren killed her son, a boy thirteen years old, by breaking his skull with an ax, and then committed suicide by jumping into a cistern. The woman had been in bad health for a long time, and the act was committed during an attack of insanity, induced by the fear that she would die and be separated from her child.

THEY are utilizing straw in the San Joaquin Valley, California, by using it as fuel in some of the steam flour mills. The proprietors estimate that they can save fifty per cent. in the cost of fuel by the burning of wheat straw. The Paradise flour mills, on the Toulumne River, being situated virtually in the centre of a 200,000 acre wheat field, it is found both convenient and economical to burn straw instead of wood, and accordingly no other fuel is used.

ACCOUNTS from Terre Bonne parish, La., state that Andrew Simms, the negro Sheriff elected on the compromise ticket, was attacked by seven negroes on Sunday evening in Houma. Simms ran from the party three squares, but being pursued, turned upon them and fired, killing one and wounding another. Simms immediately surrendered himself and was sent to jail, which was guarded during the night by a squad of citizens. Repeated threats were made to lay the town in ashes.

A DISPATCH from New Orleans says: A very sharp letter to the War Department has been written by President Orton, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, demanding why, in time of peace, their wires were cut, and the matter has been referred to General Emory for a report. Gen. Emory some days ago instituted inquiries, but has detailed Gen. Henry A. Morrow, by order of the department, to make a special report into all the circumstances.

AS IF there were not tongue enough in this world! And as if there were not diseases enough already! We are dreadfully sorry to hear of the new complaint which is raging in Visalia and vicinity, California. The victim is troubled with an itching on the under side, at the root of the tongue. Then commences the growth of a fungus very like a tongue, which soon fills the mouth and protrudes from it, causing suffocation and death in a few days. This fungus is said to have grown two inches in an hour. It is treated with caustic and generally yields to cautery.

POOR Mr. Hossock, of Odell, Ill., owning a farm needed a well, and began innocently to bore for water. Having reached a distance of 40 feet below the surface, he smelt something. Nothing daunted, he pushed 40 feet deeper—and then! Up came water with a vengeance, for it spouted 200 feet into the air, mixed with gravel stones the size of hens' eggs, and covering the ground with sand and gravel six inches deep. After some time the flow of water ceased—and then? Why then came the gas. They held a lighted match to the hole—and then? Why then a streak of flame leapt into the air, and there was a sound as of thunder, which could be heard at the distance of half a mile! At the latest date these unpleasant pyrotechnics continued; hole was increasing in size; the volume of flame was growing bigger and bigger; and all the vegetation was turning blue! Great and horror-stricken crowds were rushing to the scene, and agricultural operations on the Hossock farm were entirely suspended. When a husbandman asks Nature for water and gets gravel and blue fire he may naturally conclude that something is up, though that something none can know.

FOREIGN NOTES.

THE London Times' correspondent at Paris telegraphs that there is good reason to believe the Duke De Cazes' answer to Spain's last note will not be presented till to-day. A very exhaustive reply is preparing, which is calculated to put an end to the discussion by its completeness, and give proof of the good will of France.

ADVICES from the Gold Coast state that a great gathering of native chiefs was held at Cape Coast Castle on the 28th of October, to clearly express their views on slavery and other questions. King Koffee, of Ashantee, unable to recover ascendancy over the neighboring tribes has settled down quietly and wishes to resume trade relations.

THE Jardin d'Acclimatation, Paris, has just received two running oxen from the Island of Ceylon. They are of diminutive size, not larger than a very small donkey, but are of great utility in that country. The mail service is performed by them. They are active, and bear great fatigue, and can travel a very considerable distance at a regular, rapid pace.

RECENTLY a telegraph clerk in France refused to transmit a message in these words, "Third epistle of John, verses 13 and 14," under the law which forbids the transmission of dispatches not written in plain language. Reference to the text indicates that the dispatch was merely an economy of words. The verse is as follows: "I have many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee; but I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face."

A MACHINE, of the torpedo class, has been constructed for the British Navy which will move at a speed of nine knots an hour for three hundred yards and at a lower speed for no less a distance than a mile. It will maintain any direction impressed upon it, and it can be launched either from a boat or an iron-clad, by night or by day. In short, it is a kind of explosive fish, which, in obedience to its masters, will swim for a mile toward any adversary at which it may be directed, and will strike a dangerous, if not a fatal, blow.

ODD accidents in great cities. Recently the Paris police issued this funny advertisement:—"There was found yesterday at midday a bride, eighteen years, blue eyes, black hair. Can be obtained at Police Headquarters." She was a country girl, who came to Paris with her betrothed to get married. They took a cab at the station. On the way to the church the man got out to make some purchases. The driver was tipsy, and, instead of waiting, drove on, so they were separated in the wilderness, and the police found the bride weeping in the cab.

A YOUNG lady resident in the famous Peruvian city of the Incas, Cuzco, applied lately to the proper authorities, asking permission to enter the law school of that capital, an institution supported by the State, as a student of jurisprudence, and at the same time inquiring if her sex was an obstacle to the obtaining of a degree of master of laws provided her acquirements were sufficient. The Minister of Justice replied, in an official despatch, that all Peruvian citizens should enjoy equal rights, that women were virtually considered by the laws in force as on the same footing with men, as far as the privileges to be accorded by the Republic were concerned, and that it was a matter of peculiar pleasure to the Administration to improve the opportunity of making public such a declaration.

Stonewall Jackson's Last Letter.

The last letter ever written by Stonewall Jackson is in the possession of the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Southern Historical Society. The original is in pencil, but it has been well preserved. He wrote:

NEAR 3 P. M., May 2, 1863.

"GENERAL: The enemy has made a stand at Chancellor's, which is about two miles from Chancellorville. I hope as soon as practicable to attack. I trust that an ever kind Providence may bless us with success.

"Respectfully,
"T. J. JACKSON, Lt. Gen.

"GEN. R. E. LEE.

"The leading division is up, and the next two appear to be well closed. T. J. J."

On the back of this bulletin is the following indorsement:

"Received by Gen Lee on the evening of May 2, on the field of battle, near Chancellorville.

(Signed) CHARLES S. VENABLE."

Large Real Estate Transaction.

Probably the largest real estate transaction of the day is that which has just been consummated in Kansas. A tract of 100,000 acres of land, extending fifty miles, between the Cottonwood and Little Arkansas rivers, with the town of Halstead for its trading centre, has been sold to a colony of Russian Mennonites, who arrived in this country in September. The Mennonites, as is well known, are a religious sect, having their origin in Holland in the sixteenth century, whose prevailing characteristic, like that of the Quakers, is non-combativeness. They emigrated to the borders of the Black Sea, and, after developing the resources of that country by their industry and thrift, are now driven out by a requirement to perform military service in violation of their religious principles. What Russia loses the United States gains, for a better and more desirable class of immigrants could not be found than these sober, thrifty and energetic Mennonites. The Kansas colony will number about 2,000.

GOING NUTTING.

Enjoyment for Young Folks and Squirrels.

Every bright, pleasant day in October, and even in November, can be made into a season of much enjoyment by going nutting in the woods, where all are free to gather up the harvest of the past night and to watch for the nuts as they fall by day, even if the owners will not allow their trees to be clubbed or climbed.

The dropping of these nuts is a compensation for the death of the flowers and the falling of the leaves. The chilling nights and the blustering days of Autumn, which blacken the tender flowers and ferns, hush the melody of the birds, and carry away every vestige of the Summer's prime, are the messengers at whose bidding the chestnut burrs open their thorny husks and the walnuts their shaggy barks, while the ground is strewn with their treasures, to the great enjoyment of both young folks and squirrels. And even older folks will sometimes take pleasure in renewing their youthful feelings under the greenwood trees, and gather nuts almost as rapidly sa the nimblest fingered child in the party.

With sacks or pillow cases slung over their shoulders, and tin pails or baskets in their hands, the merry crowd of nutters sallies forth to improve the pleasant holidays of the season. How merrily the music of their cheery voices ring through the long aisles of the forest! How the dry underbrush crackles under their footsteps, while the chipping squirrels, cawing crows, and screeching blue jays stare at the boisterous intruders, without a sign of welcome, but seemingly greatly annoyed at their appearance!

Yet what care the boys for their opinion? So they set manfully to work, and if permission has been obtained from the owners of the trees, they clamber up into their scraggy branches, and with strong blows given with a will, by the aid of long poles, thick showers of burs and nuts fall quickly to the ground, while the eager hands rapidly transfer them to their baskets or sacks. So the sunny hours pass on; then lunch is satisfactorily discussed and renewed attacks are made upon the stores of the trees.

Around many towns the harvest of the nut trees are of too much value to permit of indiscriminate raids upon them. But there are yet kindly hearted owners of valuable trees, who remember the pleasure of their nutting days, and enjoy seeing a laughing, merry group of young folks under their chestnut trees, even if they do consider their shag-barks too valuable to give away. To them let us give thanks, and pray that their shadows may never be less. For what country boy and girl does not delight in nutting?

Oh, those halcyon days! How sweet is their memory! It gilds with radiance every autumn day, and brightens the dying year. Cut down, if you will, woodman, the oaks, maples, pines and hemlocks; but spare us—oh, spare us—the chestnut, walnut and butternut.—Country Gentleman.

DR. SLUGG'S INVENTION.

The Patented Tooth-Puller.

Max Adeler contributes the following: A Reading paper contains an account of a machine for plugging teeth, which reminds us of the invention patented many years ago by our old friend Dr. Slugg. It was a tooth-puller. Slugg had an enormous business, and he concluded to economize his strength by pulling teeth by machinery. He constructed a series of cranks and levers, fixed to a movable stand, and operating a pair of forceps, by means of a leather belt which was connected with the engine of a planing-mill next door. The doctor experimented with it several times on nails firmly inserted in a board, and it worked splendidly. The first patient he tried it on was Judge Mosby, who called in to have an aching molar removed. When the forceps had been clasped upon the judge's tooth, Dr. Slugg geared the machine and opened the valve. We believe it was never known with any degree of exactness whether the doctor pulled the valve too far open, or whether the planing-mill was working at that moment under extraordinary pressure. But in the twinkling of an eye Judge Mosby was twisted out of that chair, and the movable stand began to execute the most surprising manœuvres around the room. It would jerk Judge Mosby high into the air and souse him down in an appalling manner, with one leg among Slugg's gouges and other instruments of torture, and with the other in the spittoon. Then it would rear him up against the chandelier three or four times, and shy across and drive the judge's head through the oil portrait of Slugg's father over the mantel-piece. After bumping him against Slugg's ancestor, it would swirl the judge around among the crockery on the wash-stand and dance him up and down in an exciting manner over the stove, until finally the defective molar "gave," and as the judge landed with his foot through the pier-glass and his elbow on a pink poodle worked in a green rug, the machine dashed violently against Dr. Slugg, and tried to seize his leg with the forceps. When they carried the Judge home he didn't seem inordinately glad that the tooth was out; and Dr. Slugg never sent to collect his bill. They called it square, we believe; and while the Mosbys hunted up a new dentist, Slugg cancelled his contract with the man who owned the planing mill, and began to pull teeth in the old way, by hand. We have an impression that Slugg's patent can be bought at a sacrifice.

DANIEL WEBSTER'S ELOQUENCE.

How He Prepared His Speeches.

In one of the debates in Congress which suddenly called Daniel Webster to his feet, he made a brief but quite eloquent speech, apparently without any opportunity for previous preparation. In the course of his remarks he drew out the following sentence, which has ever since been admired as one of the most harmonious and expressive in the English language. He was speaking of our military conflict with Great Britain: "Our fathers raised their flag against a power to which, for purpose of foreign conquest and subjugation, Rome, in the height of her glory, is not to be compared—a power which has dotted the surface of the whole globe with her possessions and military posts; whose morning drum-beat, following the sun in its course and keeping pace with the hours, circles the earth with one continuous and unbroken strain of the martial airs of England."

As he sat down one of the Senators congratulated him upon his speech, and alluding to the above passage, said that to him it was inconceivable how Mr. Webster in a speech so manifestly unpremeditated, could have formed so perfect and so beautiful a sentence, which with hours of study he could not improve. Mr. Webster replied that the passage was not extemporaneous; that in his Summer vacation he visited Quebec, and while standing on the massive and almost impregnable citadel there, looking out upon the wondrous scene of national grandeur and of nature's loveliness spread before him, the idea occurred to his mind. He immediately took his seat upon a gun, and with a pencil and paper sketched the thought in the most appropriate language he could at the moment command. Upon arriving at the hotel he sat down and rewrote it, with many interlineations and erasures, until he had moulded it into the form of words which satisfied him. He then laid it aside in his retentive memory, to be used when the occasion should offer. The opportunity arose upon that day.

FIRST LOVE.

Two songbirds sang in the sky's first glow,
They laughed in the light of the early morn,
But pale death sped from an archer's bow,
And the bright dew drops fell on a bird forlorn.
When sunrise is gilding each flow and tree,
How sad shall the note of that songster be!

On a bough there blossomed two roses white,
Their buds had burst on the same bright day;
But one was nipped by the frosts of night,
And faded and died in the morning gray.
The other must lavish its scent alone,
Till each beauteous blossom to earth is blown.

But the bird another fond mate may see,
When the pang of pain and sorrow is o'er,
And soon there may bloom on the same green tree,
Two flowers as sweet as ever it bore.
But never again shall a heart bereft,
Have aught save sorrow and sadness left.

Sure Preventive to the Freezing of Water Pipes and Accidents of Similar Nature to Water Closets.

We beg leave to offer to the public our Patent Automatic Water Closet,
which is Anti-freezing and Inodorous. It is the most durable Closet in the market, for the following reasons: It will not freeze. It is strictly self-acting. It does not cause any re-acting and bursting of pipes. It is free from all obnoxious odors, and therefore will improve the sanitary condition of our cities. It has no valves to get out of repair and leak.
With our valuable improvement obnoxious cess-pools in yards are dispensed with, as direct communication is made with the sewer pipe.
The public are invited to call at our salesroom, and examine this valuable improvement in operation, where its great advantages can be seen at a glance, or send for circular containing full particulars.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, November 10, 1874.

There was not so large a volume of business at our banks yesterday as during the closing days of the preceding week, but it was better than the average Monday's business. The hopeful feeling as regards monetary and business affairs even extends to real estate, and there is a slightly improved market. Still prices have not advanced, nor is the demand active. It was absolutely dead for a long while previous, and any movement whatever represented a change and therefore an improvement. There are quite many unrented houses, particularly in our suburbs, but these are partially attributable to high rates and the advanced season. With the gradual improvement that may now be anticipated, we hope real estate will partake of the general improvement in business.

—The operations of the Treasury at the New York office during last week included the disbursement of $2,554,000 on account of interest, $3,233,000 in redemption of five-twenty bonds, and the receipt of $1,549,000 for customs.

Of the call for $25,000,000 bonds due November 1 $7,000,000 have been received, $1,200,000 in national bank notes received for redemption. The agency is now making prompt return for all notes sent in for redemption. The Treasury holds $385,600,000 in bonds to secure national bank circulation and $16,500,000 to secure public deposit.

The foreign commerce of the port for the week was: General merchandise imports, including dry goods, $4,770,530; produce exports, $7,771,028; specie exports, $328,424. The total merchandise imports, including dry goods, since January 1st this year, are $339,956,807, against $342,484,769 last year, and $377,805,302 in 1872. The total exports of produce since January 1st, this year, are $245,631,598, against $250,359,471 last year, and $194,540,080 in 1872. The total exports of specie since January 1st are $45,076,533, against $53,496,359 last year, and $62,882,508 in 1872.

—In Philadelphia the money market continues to rule very quiet. Business is much from hand to mouth. Manufacturers are producing only for the current want, consequently there is no speculation in the market and necessarily little demand for money. Consumers do not buy in excess of present need under the apprehension that there may be lower prices in the near future, and producers, feeling no positive assurance that prices will soon be higher, are not encouraged to increase their production. It will take some time yet to reach the period of change, but it is sure to come, and with it will come an increased demand for money. Call loans, on few operations, are quoted at 5 per cent., strictly first-class two-name sixty to ninety days' paper at 5 to 6 per cent. strictly first-class single name sixty to ninety days' paper at 6 to 7 per cent., first-class three to four months' paper, with good collateral, 5 to 6 per cent.; the same character of paper on the same time, with Government collateral, 5 per cent. Paper on second grade is not much in favor and is placed only after close scrutiny. At New York and Boston the same case in money matters that has characterized the past two or three months continues. At both points, as well as here, the supply of currency now available is ample to meet all calls which the banks and lenders generally feel themselves bound to respect, and the current rate of interest is not very high either.

—The Philadelphia city banks, at their recent meeting, did a novel and a good thing when they proposed a general meeting of bankers and representatives of banks to form an association for the purpose of procuring a complete representation in 1876 of our coinage and circulating medium from the first settlement of the country. This will include a collection of the various State coinages and paper money, and of the continental currency, as well as later issues in paper and coin. Such a collection would have great historical interest.

NEW YORK, November 9, 1874.

The customs receipts were $384,000, and the Treasury disbursements $1,234,000. Money 2½@3. Sterling was firm at 484½@485 for sixty days and 488½@488¾ for sight. Gold opened and closed at 110¼, with sales at 110¼@110⅜. The borrowing rates were flat to 2 per cent., and carrying 1@3. The clearings were $26,000,000. State bonds were quiet and strong. Railroad bonds were in good demand, and a slight advance in Pacifics. The stock market opened ⅛@¼ per cent. above the closing quotations of Saturday, and as the morning wore on a further advance of ⅛@½ per cent. was made, with the chief interest in Pacific Mail, Ohios and Union Pacific. Pacific Mail and Union Pacific advanced on a report to the effect that negotiations were pending, and were liable to end favorably, looking toward the consolidation of the interests of both companies, and that at least they would most likely hereafter exchange freight. Ohios were up on the company's report of increased earnings for October and a report that there was a likelihood of their interests being joined to the Baltimore & Ohio road. Later on there was a slight falling off in most of the leading stocks consequent on realization sales, but at the close the market was strong, and in most instances the prices were at the best of the day. The sales aggregated 215,000 shares, of which 25,500 were Western Union, 24,500 Pacific Mail, 38,700 Lake Shore, 30,700 Union Pacific, 12,000 Northwestern, 8,000 St. Paul, and 21,000 Wabash.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, Nov. 9, 1874.

Business in general merchandise continues quiet and unsatisfactory, and while there is very general complaint, both by merchants and manufacturers, who complain that their business falls considerably behind what it usually is at this season of the year, it is, we suppose, about all that we can reasonably expect. As has been the case ever since the panic, the demand for everything is very much curtailed, as compared with what it usually is at this particular time, as people generally are buying only for immediate wants, carrying no more stock than they can help, having determined, as the saying is, to keep close to shore. Hence general trade, as already intimated, while it is considerably curtailed, is in a more healthy condition than it has been for many years, as people are becoming satisfied to do a legitimate business, and over-trading has received a pretty effective quietus. However, notwithstanding orders for goods of all kinds are comparatively light there is a very fair business in the aggregate, while as regards values, there have been no important changes since the date of our last weekly review.

APPLES—The arrivals continue to increase steadily, but so is the consumption, as is always the case at this season of the year, hence prices remain unchanged; sales at $1,50@2 for common to fair and $2,50@3 ⅌ bbl for prime to choice. The demand as yet is mostly for small lots, and dealers have but little hope of any improvement in prices until towards Spring.

ALE—Trade continues dull, and unsatisfactory to brewers, with but little prospect of an early improvement; prices have yielded a very small margin for profit during the past year. We continue to quote X at $9 ⅌ bbl to the country and $8 to city; XX, $10; India Ale, $11. Half bbls in regular proportion.

APPLE BUTTER—Continues to come forward freely, and, with a very limited demand, the stock is accumulating, and the market is dull; quotable, in kegs, 60@65 ⅌ gallon.

ASHES—There is some little inquiry, but the volume of business in the aggregate continues light, as it usually is at this particular time, while as regards prices, they are nominally unchanged.

BROOMS—No 1 "Union" Brooms, $1,75; No 2 do, $2; No 3 do, $2,25; No 4 do, $2,75; No 5 do, $3; No 6 do, $3,25; No 3 Carpet do, $3,50; No 4 do, $3,75; No 5 do, $4,00; Toy & Wisps, $1,25; Steamboat and Stable Brooms, $4 to $4,50. Above are wholesale rates—retail prices are 25 to 37½ cents higher.

BEANS—The demand continues light, hence notwithstanding the supply is small, it is ample for present requirements, and the general tone of the market is not as strong as it has been, as the crop appears to have turned out better than was expected. Quotable at $2@2,10 for mediums and $2,25@2,30 for navies.

BEESWAX—Continues quiet, and, in the absence of sales, we continue to quote nominally at 28@30 cents.

BROOM CORN—The arrivals continue comparatively light, and with reduced stocks in this market and an average demand the market is firm, and within the past month an advance has been established in prices. It is claimed that not only was the crop light, but that the area planted was not as large as usual.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—There is a fair demand but the supply is fully equal to it, and prices are lower; selling at 3½@4c ⅌ lb.

BUTTER—The market continues quiet, the demand as well as the consumption is reported as being considerably below what it usually is at this season of the year; hence, notwithstanding the arrivals continue light, the supply is fully equal to the demand, and prices, as compared with the date of our last review, have undergone no quotable change. Prime to choice roll, 27@30c; medium to good, 20@25; common to fair, 10@15. Retailers report that they are not selling near as much butter as they usually do at this particular time, and, from what we can learn, we have reason to believe that a good many families will be satisfied if they can only obtain bread this winter and do without butter.

CHESTNUTS—The arrivals have fallen off considerably, but the supply is still in excess of the demand, which has been remarkably light all season; $2,50@3 ⅌ bushel.

CRANBERRIES—There is a fair demand, but the supply is fully equal to it, and the market continues quiet and unchanged; selling at $10@15 ⅌ bbl for Jerseys and $14@15 for Sacketts.

CHEESE—There is a steady demand, and we can report regular jobbing sales at 16½@17 for Ohio Factory, and New York do., 17½@18. Our advices from the source of supply are that, while makers are anxious to dispose of their October make, they are holding their September Cheese with considerable tenacity, which is owing to the fact that the latter are much better than the former, as more cream is used in September than October. Ohio Sweitzer is still quoted at 17@18.

CORDAGE AND ROPE—The market for this character of goods continues quiet, while prices remain unchanged. Following are the current card rates:

COKE—The market continues quiet, and devoid of any new features worthy of special notice; prices remain as last quoted, $2,75 ⅌ ton, delivered free on cars in Pittsburgh.

CANNED GOODS—Trade in this class of goods continues very quiet, and no improvement can be expected in the jobbing trade until the consuming season opens up, which will not be for a couple of months yet. Prices are nominally unchanged.

CEMENT, ETC., ETC.—Following are the current rates: Cement—Portland, $4@5,50 ⅌ barrel; Youghiogheny, $2@2,50; Louisville $2@2,50; Phoenix, $2@2,25; Rosendale, $4 to $4,50. Plaster—French's Selected, $4 to $4,50; Mills & Co.'s, $3,50 to $3,75; Michigan, $3,50 to $3,75; Terra-Alba, $3,50 to $3,75. White Lime—Fremont, Sandusky, Sawyer's Genoa and Cleveland, $1,75 to $2 ⅌ bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—There has been no movement in Dried Fruit of any kind in this market, hence no regular rates have been established. Dealers report that the stock is light, but that as yet there is little or no call for it.

EGGS—There has been a sharp advance in fresh Eggs since the date of our last weekly review, in consequence of very light receipts, and we now quote at 29@30; pickled are selling at 20@25c, as to quality.

FIRE BRICK—Following are the current rates: Woodland, $50; Bolivar, $30; Apollo, $30; Empire, $50; Common, $22.

FLOUR—The market for this important staple continues dull, and weak, and while since the date of our last weekly review, there has been no quotable change in prices, the tendency is still downward. We continue former quotation: Spring wheat flours, $5,75@6 for Wisconsins, and $6,25@6,50 for Minnesotas; winter wheat, $6@6,25 for red and $6,75@7 for white. This has been the poorest season Pittsburgh dealers have had for several years, for the reason that they have but very few buyers outside of the corporative limits; for several years, preceding this one, nearly all the small towns within a radius of one hundred miles drew mainly upon Pittsburgh for supplies, but now as the country mills have been started up again, they are enabled to get their flour nearer home. It is also worthy of notice that the export demand for both Flour and Wheat to foreign countries is comparatively light, which, of course, is not without its effect in weakening the market. Rye Flour, $5,75.

GRAIN—Trade has been very dull and unsatisfactory during the past week, and not only was the demand light, but there is little or no margin for profit at current prices, which, it is alleged, are too low here, as compared with what they are at the source of supply. Dealers complain bitterly at the policy pursued by our railroads toward the grain trade of this city, and not without cause; it is alleged that rates are given to points west of here to the sea-board considerably below those charged from Pittsburgh, thereby preventing Pittsburgh dealers from doing anything east of this point, hence, instead of being able to trade with Philadelphia or Baltimore, they have to confine their operations to the corporate limits. There has not, that we are aware of, been a single car of grain shipped from here to any of the sea-board markets for several years, and there is not the slightest doubt but what if our merchants were afforded rates that would enable them to ship east, that the grain trade of Pittsburgh would be largely increased. It is said that the receipts here last year were about five million bushels, and there is no reason to doubt, if the railroads would give our merchants an equal chance with points west of here, and to this they are certainly entitled, that the grain business of Pittsburgh would soon be doubled. Our merchants have taken the matter in hand, and it is hoped that they will not rest satisfied until they have forced the railroads to come to terms; they ask for no favors, all they want is simply justice, and to this they are certainly entitled. Wheat continues quiet and without quotable change: Penna and Ohio Red at $1,12@1,15, and amber and white, $1,18@1,20. The Oat market continues quiet, the demand has been light for a couple of weeks past, but prices are fully sustained; we continue to quote at 57@58c for mixed; 58½@59c for Ohio white, and 59½@60c for prime western do. The receipts of new ear Corn have fallen off considerably within the past week, and the market is firmer in consequence; quotable at 65@67c; new shelled is also in light supply and firmer and higher, while old is dull and lower, as the former is gradually taking the place of the latter; new is quoted at 68@72, in elevator, according to quality and condition, and old at 80@82. Rye is in light supply, but there does not appear to be much call for it; we continue to quote at $1@1,05. Barley continues quiet, although the tone of the market is firmer, under the influence of the advices from the west; No 2 Spring may be quoted at $1,23@1,25 and Fall at $1,25@1,30, as to quality.

HAY—The receipts of baled continue comparatively light, and the market is firmer in consequence, with a slight improvement in prices; we now quote at $18@22 ⅌ ton, by the car load, on track, according to quality and condition. Loose is selling from country wagons at $25@30. Oat Straw, baled, by the car load, $15@17; Wheat Straw, $12@14.

MILL FEED—The receipts continue liberal, and with stocks accumulating, and holders more anxious to realize, prices are weak and drooping. Bran, which a few ago was selling at $21@25 ⅌ ton, cannot be fairly quoted above $20, and there has been a corresponding depreciation in other grades.

ONIONS—There is a continued fair demand and we can report regular sales at $3@4 ⅌ bbl.

GROCERIES—Coffee—The higher grades of Rio fell off ½c, gold ⅌ lb, but at the close of the week were firmer, with an increased demand from the country dealers. The eastern markets were dull for all descriptions, but a better feeling prevailed on Friday and Saturday, and holders refused to make concessions. The stock is quite short in this country, but dealers, having no confidence, are backward in buying in a speculative way. The late news from Rio, showing the daily receipts to be 15,000 bags, and 210,000 bags in stock there, deters business here, though we lack stock for an ordinary demand. The lower grades are scarcer, however, and without change in value. Java strong. Sugars are lower, and the market without any activity. It is the general opinion that "Yellows" have touched bottom. Syrups steady. Rice firm. Lard is higher, in consequence of late news that the product will fall short of the estimates made by Western packers, and because of larger sales for export to Europe.

PROVISIONS—Trade, while it cannot be termed active, is fair, not much behind what it usually is at this season of the year, but prices are weak and drooping. Mess Pork has been reduced one dollar per bbl during the past week, and Hams, Shoulders and Lard are also down from ¼ to ½c ⅌ lb. Following are the current rates:

POTATOES—The receipts continue liberal, but with a steady demand there has been no accumulation as yet, and prices are still maintained; prime to choice Peach Blows, 85 to 90 cts ⅌ bushel, by the car load; Early Rose and other kinds, 70 to 80, according to quality and condition. That the receipts here have been large since the shipping season set in, is evident from the fact that one firm alone, Messrs. Voigt, Mahood & Co., report having received 185 cars, and other firms, including Aiken, Wallace & Pollock, Head, Carson & Co., have also been receiving largely. Sweets in diminished supply and firmer; selling at $3@3,50 ⅌ bbl for Baltimores, and $4,00@5 for Jerseys.

POULTRY—Live Chickens dull; quoted at 40@60c ⅌ pair, by the coop; dressed Chickens, 12@13c ⅌ lb. Live Turkeys, 75c to $1 each and dressed, 15@17c ⅌ lb. The weather at this writing is unfavorable for dressed poultry.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

ALLEGHENY STOCK YARDS, ALLEGHENY,
MONDAY, Nov. 9, 1874.

CATTLE.

The general features of the market did not differ essentially from those of last Monday, except that, in view of a comparatively light supply, for two weeks in succession, holders were enabled to realize better prices. We have reason to believe that there were more cattle wanted to-day than last Monday, because many of the butchers had a two week's supply ahead then and were not obliged to buy in consequence, while to-day, it is reasonable to infer, that this was not the case, hence there was an increased demand, and dealers generally had no trouble in realizing an advance of from an ⅛ to ¼, in some instances the improvement was still greater. The total number on sale was close on to 900 head; we had an account of 864, and there are generally some small straggling lots that we get no account of. For some time past the supply has ranged from 1,000 to 1,500 head, so that the offerings were comparatively light, although fully up the demand. Not only was the supply small as compared with what it has been recently, but the average quality was common, the bulk of the offerings consisting of little, thin steers and heifers, and old cows, hence good to prime butcher steers sold readily, and that, too, at relatively better prices than the commoner grades. That the market was active was evident from the fact that the great bulk of the entire supply had changed hands by ten o'clock; at noon there were but very few remaining unsold, whereas, when it is otherwise, there are generally more or less left over. As compared with two weeks ago there has been an advance of from ⅛ to ½ on common, and a ¼ on the best grades, and the market was active to-day at the advance.

CATTLE WHOLESALED.

S. Fordyce wholesaled 28 head of common mixed Ohio stock, averaging 775 lbs, for $840. H. Doudna, 19 head of fair at 4c ⅌ lb. J. F. Hoose, 34 prime 1,350 Ohio steers at 6¾c. J. Stiers, 21 at 5,10. J. Williams, 20 at 3,90. J. S. Franks, 20 at $50 per head. Seidle & Bland, 20 at 5¾c ⅌ lb.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply was comparatively light, although fully up to the demand, from which it is evident that the butchers are not buying as much of this kind of stock as formerly; however, this is not unexpected, as the demand usually commences to fall off at this season of the year, when pork commences to take the place of mutton. All the best sheep and lambs were picked up early in the day, as the supply of this particular kind was small, but common stock was dull, and at the close there were some tail-ends still remaining unsold. Prime to extra may be quoted at 5 to 5½, although we did not hear of anything having been sold above 5¼; medium to good, 4 to 4½ and scalawags at $1,50 to $2 ⅌ head. Lambs may be quoted at $2 to $4½ ⅌ head, or 5 to 6 cents ⅌ pound, according to quality and condition. The stock on sale to-day was reported as follows:

HOGS.

The demand for this class of stock is steadily increasing, and if prices were down a cent or two ⅌ lb, the butchers generally would buy a good many more than they are. Sales were made to-day, in a retail way, at 5¾ to 6¼c, gross, according to quality and condition. None of our packers have commenced to buy yet, and, from what we can learn, there will be but few hogs slaughtered by packers here, as some of them will do their slaughtering in the West, while others will buy green meat. Messrs. F. H. Myers & Co., of this city, are putting up a large packing house in Chicago, near the Union Stock Yards; they expect to have it ready for business in a few weeks. W. B. Hays & Son have a packing house at Terre Haute, Indiana, where for several years they have done all their slaughtering.

VEAL CALVES.

There is a scarcity of good veal calves, and prices are firm and higher; may be quoted at 6½@7c for good to prime, averaging from 125 to 150 lbs, and common ones, although not plenty, are not much inquired for, and are ranging from 5@5½ cents. Good veals, however, as already intimated, are selling readily at full rates.

FRESH COWS.

Were in light supply to-day, and the few that were on sale were common in point of quality; good milkers, as they are very scarce, sell readily at full prices, say $50@60, while common to fair may be quoted at $25@40.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, Nov. 9, 1874.

Trade continues very quiet, and the market in a general way presents but little that is really new or important. Crude as compared with Saturday, is higher; immediate shipment quoted at 75@77½ ⅌ bbl at Parker. However, there is but little confidence in the immediate future, nor is it to be expected, in view of the fact that the production is large and increasing, and the same is true of the supply, while the consumption, on the other hand, is gradually falling off; hence the general feeling among the trade is that prices must go lower. Refined continues quiet, although the general tone of the market is a shade firmer. Philadelphia delivery quoted at 10⅜c; Baltimore, 10⅜.

There has been no decision in the pipe line case as yet, notwithstanding it has been anxiously looked for during the past week; the trade are very hopeful that the decision will be favorable to the Pipe Line Company, as it is a matter in which they are all deeply interested.

The Barrel trade continues quiet and unchanged: countries, $1,30; city make, $1,40.

GEORGE H. ROHE,
Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

There was considerable rain during Sunday night—the first we have had for some five or six weeks, and the indications at this writing are favorable for more. The river is rising slowly, but we need not expect much water until there is more rain. Dispatches reported rain at the headwaters of the Allegheny on Sunday night.

Capts. Wm. and Martin Coulson, who have been boating on the Upper Missouri all season, reached home last week. Captain Sanford B. Coulson is expected to arrive within the next few weeks.

The Messenger is announced to take her departure for St Louis as soon as there is water.

—General Belknap, in a letter to the Trustees of the Southern Railway, referring to the proceedings of the Board of United States Engineers, says: "The said Board, after hearing the objections and remonstrances from the representative of all classes of navigation of the said river, and after carefully examining the subject, and having referred their views thereon, which report has been duly received by me, and certain other remonstrances against building the bridge, made after the report of the Board had been submitted, having been duly considered by me, and replies made thereto. Now, therefore, in accordance with the recommendations of the said Board, I do hereby authorize the erection of the said bridge, as originally proposed, at the foot of Horne street, in the city of Cincinnati, provided the following changes be made in the erection of the piers as shown upon the said design and drawing of the bridge and piers, as originally submitted, viz: The pivot pier of the draw, 3, shall take the place of No 2; No 4 shall take the place of the pivot pier, and No 5 shall be about 520 feet north of the present position of the pivot pier. All other piers to be located at the option of the Trustees of the said railroad. The Board of Engineers recommend as essential to the security and convenience of navigation that the pivot pier of the draw shall have a protection pier placed 300 feet above, with ring bolts and a suitable float between the pivot and protection piers, with snubbing posts. Under the obligation imposed upon me by the several acts of Congress regulating the construction of bridges over the navigable waters of the United States, I am constrained to bring this requirement for the security of navigation to the notice of the Trustees of the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, as a condition that may be enforced through the courts of the United States. All of the above is more fully shown, and is correctly represented on the design and drawing of the bridge and piers and map of the location bearing my approval, and made a part hereof and being hereunto attached."

—The Sioux City Journal of Tuesday last says: The river above Randall was running full of ice, about half an inch thick, on Saturday. The steamer Josephine, from Cheyenne, arrived at Yankton about eight o'clock, Sunday forenoon. The Josephine and E. F. Durfee will be stripped and put upon the ways at Yankton immediately. It is said that the river never was in better condition for navigation, considering the low water, than at the present time.

—The Marietta owners of the Emperor have taken the case recently decided against them to a higher Court. The case was one wherein a passenger, crossing the Emperor to get on board the Express, lying alongside, fell into the former's hold, and sustained some injury to his person.

—The Evansville Journal says: Unless heavy rains occur at the head of the river, we will soon have the lowest river that has existed during the last seven years.

—An inventory of debts against the Jennie Brown has been made, and swallows up the value of the boat. Wages due to the officers and crew amount to $1,200.

—The Vicksburg Herald of Tuesday says: The officers of the Maude and Kyle report the Mollie Moore hard aground at Bruinsburg, below here, and about a mile out of the channel.

HOME NEWS.

The Puddlers' Conference.

The Conference yesterday afternoon between the puddlers and iron manufacturers was held according to the arrangement and the differences between them discussed, but nothting definte was arrived at.

Attempted Burglary.

At an early hour yesterday morning burglars attempted to force an entrance into a cigar store on Irwin avenue, near Jackson street, Allegheny, by forcing off the shutters, but they were frightened away before they had succeeded in their designs.

Runaway and Smash-up.

A horse attached to a buck wagon, belonging to Wm. Beilstein, a grocer, on Ohio street, Allegheny, ran off on Madison avenue yesterday afternoon and smashed the buckwagon. A young man who was in the buck wagon named Wm. Edwards was thrown out and badly bruised.

Cruelty to Animals—Meeting To-day.

This afternoon at three o'clock a meeting will be held at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, for the purpose of organizing a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. All humane citizens, male and female, are earnestly requested, and particularly the ladies, to meet and join in the organization.

A Burglar Promptly Dealt With.

On Saturday night, a burglar forced an entrance into the Manchester Lunch House, on Beaver avenue, Allegheny, and while looking for something to steal, the proprietor discovered and captured him. He promptly administered a sound thrashing to the thief, and then turned him out, with the advice to clear out quickly, or he might not escape so easy. He vanished.

Shop Lifter Captured.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon an old Irish woman, who was somewhat intoxicated, was observed stealing some goods in Semples' dry goods store, Allegheny. Officer Noble was called in and arrested her, but Mr. Semple declined to prosecute her if she would pay for what she had taken, which she did. She was then placed in a car and sent to her home in Pittsburgh.

Sabbath School Convention.

The Sabbath School Convention of the Methodist A. M. E. Zion church, which convened on last Thursday, was well attended, large crowds being in attendance from various parts, the clergy being represented by Drs. Matthews and Williams and Revs. Pipkins, Bell and others. A spirit of unanimity and zeal pervaded all classes and much good was done. "There was no wool pulled over the eyes of any present."

Sudden Death.

The sad intelligence was received in the city yesterday that Prof. James R. Newell, of this city, had died on Sunday at Mt. Auburn, near Cincinnati, of apoplexy. The deceased was one of the Professors of the Newell Institute of this city and one of the best educators in the community. He was a cultured Christian gentleman, who had many friends to whom his death will cause sincere grief.

Taking a Nap in the Mayor's Office.

Last evening a man named Jack Ewing, who was laboring somewhat under the influence of liquor, entered the audience room of the Allegheny Mayor's office and seated himself on a chair and went to sleep. Soon after officer Scott found him there, and on trying to arouse him he became angry and wanted to have his nap out. He was promptly furnished with a board bench in a cell, and this morning he will have the pleasure of paying for his lodgings.

Fell From a Bridge.

Last evening about 6 o'clock a workingman, who was walking along the track of the P. Ft. W. & C. R. R., started to walk across the bridge over Lacock street, Allegheny, but in the darkness he failed to step upon the cross ties and fell through between them to the street below, a distance of about eighteen feet. Several persons who saw the accident ran to his assistance, expecting to find him badly hurt, but they found that he had escaped with a severe wound on the head, and several bad bruises.

THE OFFICIAL RETURNS.

A Hitch in the Fourth District—The Work Not Yet Completed.

The clerks were busy yesterday in figuring up the election returns, and completed all but the Fourth District. In this the returns were footed up, but the two tally sheets were not compared and verified, as in the other cases, and the work was suspended until this morning. In the Fourth District nearly all the votes cast for Carson have been cast for John M Carson, when Joseph M. Carson was the nominee. These returns are before the Court, and will be again revised before the official count of the district is announced. When it is completed, we shall give the full official returns together. It is unnecessary to publish the list incomplete again, as the footings generally tally with those we have already published.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

A Man Roughly Handled.

Yesterday a man by the name of James Nolan appeared before Alderman Logan, and made complaint against Robert Johnston charging him and other parties with robbing him on Saturday night. The plaintiff alleges that at the time above stated he with Johnston had been drinking, that they went up Wylie avenue about nine o'clock, when an assault was made upon him by the defendant together with other parties, who were unknown to him, that one of them threw their arm around his neck, and held him, while the others beat him over the head and went through his pockets, taking therefrom about three or four dollars in money—all he had about him. Johnston was arrested yesterday and had a partial hearing after which he was committed for a further hearing to-day.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

The Meeting on Thursday—A Full Attendance Desirable.

Our manufacturers, merchants and business men generally should not forget the meeting to be held on Thursday afternoon for the organization of a Board of Trade. The sub-committee on Organization will report at that time, and it is desirable that there be a full attendance of all interested in the project. We ought to have a permanent institution of this character in the city. No other city of like proportions or business influence is without such an organization, and Pittsburgh should not be behind the age. A Board of Trade, where our business men could meet and exchange notes and transact business, and have a concert of action or anything pertaining to their interests, would be of incalculable benefit to the trade of Pittsburgh, and we hope to see it permanently organized Thursday next.

THE TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.

Meeting Yesterday Morning—Various Matters Discussed.

The regular weekly meeting of the County Temperance Alliance was held yesterday morning at the corner of Penn avenue and Sixth street. In the absence of the President, Mr. Gallagher was called to the Chair. Reports were made by Mrs. Vanhorn, Allen and Bryce concerning their different fields of labor, which were received.

Mr. Kirk moved that Messrs. Dr Swift, W. B. Ross, Jonathan Gallagher, George Finley and Wm. T. Powell be appointed a committee to award the silk prohibition flag to the voting precinct in the county (polling more than 50 votes) that cast the largest percentage of votes for the Prohibition ticket, and that they make suitable arrangements for the presentation.

Mr. Kirk also moved that a committee, consisting of Messrs. George Finley, S. M. Hershberger, Wm. T. Powell, J. H. Burtt and Dr. Kennedy, be appointed to find out the legality of the election of Mayor McCarthy. Rev. Swift thought to attempt such a thing would result injuriously to the party. A lively discussion here ensued, which resulted in the motion being laid upon the table.

A motion was made by Jos. Turner that a committee of five be appointed to prepare a Prohibition bill and present it to the next Legislature. The motion was laid upon the table. Adjourned.

ALLEGHENY WATER AFFAIRS.

The Water Committee in Session Last Night.

A meeting of the Water Committee of Allegheny Councils was held last evening, Mr. A. D. Smith presiding.

A number of petitions for abatement of water tax were taken up. Some were granted and others refused.

It was decided to lay a four inch main on Adams street from Preble avenue to Vermont street.

Superintendent Paul stated that the old boilers at the old water works were entirely unfit for further use, and not worth repairing. It was agreed to report a resolution to Councils authorizing the committee to advertise for proposals for the construction of a battery of three boilers for the old water works.

Mr. Paul also reported that the engines at the old works had been entirely overhauled and thoroughly repaired, and were now in a better condition than ever before. The repairs on them will be completed on Saturday.

The specifications for improving and enlarging the water reservoir were referred, to a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Smith, Johnston and Superintendent Paul for examination, and the committee was authorized to advertise for proposals making the improvements.

The Superintendent of the water works was authorized to receive bids for covering the steam pipes in the new water works with the patent non-conducting covering. The pay-roll amounted to $1,480.57, and bills to the amount of $1,502 were approved.

The special committee appointed to examine the different sites for a new reservoir will hold a meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Adjourned.

Chocolate E'Clairs, Vanilla E'Clairs, fine Confectionery, Foreign Fruits, etc., at Hubley's.

PITTSBURGH COUNCILS.

Regular Meeting Yesterday.

A Lively Session—An Interesting Point of Order—The Contract With the Pennsylvania Railroad—Discussing it in Select Council—A Repealing Resolution Passed—Proposed Change in the Manner of Electing City Officers—The Payment of the South Side Indebtedness—City Officers' Salaries Again—The Reservoir Contracts.

The following members were present: Messrs. Adams, Ahl, Ahlborn, Aiken, Anderson, Atterbury, Bissell, Braun, Brown, Bates, Burgwin, Darlington, Dannells, Dorrington, Doyle, Eitemiller, Elder, Fetterman, Foster, Fox, Froelich, Goldthorpe, Harrison, Hays, Herron, House, Hunter, Kernan, Keebler, Kestner, Knapp, Lloyd, Littell, Macfarlane, Mitchell, Meyer, Moore, Murray, Musgrave, A. G. McCandless, J. Guy McCandless, McClurg, McCune, McFarland, McMasters, Negley, O'Neil, Rafferty, Rayburn, Scully, Shipton, Spahr, Watson, Zern and Smith.

The minutes of the two preceding meetings were read and approved.

A POINT OF ORDER.

Mr HERRON before proceeding with business in regular order made the point of order that under the act of Assembly to pass a resolution it did not require a majority vote of all the members elected to Councils, but only a majority vote of all the members present provided that majority was equal to two-fifths of the members elect of Councils.

Mr. HERRON in making the point of order stated that at a former meeting of Councils when he had called up a resolution in reference to the payment of transportation expenses for the Road Commissioner's corps, the Chair had decided that it required a majority of all the members elect of Council. He thought this an erroneous decison.

The Chair said the matter put the temporary Chairman in an embarrassing position. The regular Chairman had decided that it required a majority vote of all the members elect. He, however, (Mr. McCune,) held to a different view, but did not wish to make a decision. He would decline, therefore, to make a decision on any matter pertaining to past proceedings, but he would decide in any case that might come up in the course of the afternoon.

Mr. A. G. McCANDLESS held that the point of order was not pertinent to the present time. It should have been made at the time the decision was made.

This judgment was endorsed by the Chair, and the point of order ruled as irregular at that time; the Chair, however, stated that if any case came up during the afternoon, a decision would be made on the point, if it was then raised.

Mr. A. G. McCANDLESS objected.

Mr. MUSGRAVE, a resolution for the transfer of $2,000 from the appropriation for the Fifth Avenue Market to the Diamond Market. Referred to City Solicitor.

Mr. HERRON presented the report of the Road Committee, showing expenditures for the month of October. Received and filed.

Mr. HERRON in this connection stated that the Road Committee had ordered all work to stop as their fund was about exhausted, having in it less than $500. The appropriation had been exhausted by the withdrawal of funds for the payment of old bills.

Mr. O'NEILL called up the resolution from Common Council, asking the Engineers of the Water Works to resign. The rules were not suspended, and the resolution was not considered.

THE CONTRACT WITH THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Mr. RAFFERTY called up the resolution 514, repealing the ordinance granting the Pennsylvania Railroad certain privileges, and annulling the contract under the ordinance.

The rules were suspended to consider the resolution.

Mr. RAFFERTY then proceeded to discuss the contract which gave away a couple of the most important thoroughfares of the city without any requirement. He had a petition from five hundred citizens asking for the repeal of the ordinance, and he thought any man who understood the matter would see the folly of giving away of Washington and Grant streets. He also presented the written opinion of the City Solicitor to the effect that Councils had the right to repeal the ordinance vacating their streets to the Pennsylvania Railroad because the company had failed to complete its part of the contract in commencing the bridges to be built in the outer districts. According to the contract a part of the work should have been completed within six months, and in no case should it be extended longer than eighteen months.

Mr. A. G. McCANDLESS thought the duty of Councils was self-evident. At the time of the agreement great promises had been made, and none of these had been fulfilled. They had already given away property that was invaluable to the city, and now that in one instance they had a chance to retrieve themselves and get back Grant and Washington streets, he thought every Councilman could see what was his duty.

Mr. HERRON said he had voted for the original ordinance under the belief that the Railroad Company would do what it promised. These promises had not been carried out, and it was evident the Railroad Company wanted to get all it could from the city, and do very little in return.

Mr. LLOYD said the city of Pittsburgh had the bargain. If the Railroad Company did not get the conveniences that were necessary for the transaction of business, the would go elsewhere. She wanted depot facilities, and if she did not get them in the old city she would have to go to some other point. The company had been preparing for this for the last ten years, and could easily secure facilities on the South Side. Their merchants would have the privilege of draying their goods to the depot, a mile or so away, perhaps, and passengers could only reach the depot by omnibusses. He thought the Pennsylvania railroad did not get much of a bargain by living up to the contract. It was to the interest of Pittsburgh to give them all the facilities they required, and so keep them in the city.

Mr. WATSON also supported the agreement. He thought railroads made a city, and they ought to be encouraged as much as possible. He illustrated his argument by showing that the city by bringing business to the city, and affording facilities for carrying on business, benefited every man in the city, and every man's pocket was interested in it.

Mr. ANDERSON held that the city either had or had not a contract with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. If there was a contract, it could not be annulled by one party simply desiring to get out of the contract made, by simply announcing its annullment. He thought something more than that was necessary. He thought it was a question for the Courts. He also called attention to the mis-statement, that the Railroad Company had not commenced work. They commenced work and would have finished had not unusual circumstances interfered. He was opposed to an annullment of the agreement.

Mr. BURGWIN had originally voted for the ordinance and could not see any reason for changing his opinion now. The city he thought had the best of the bargain.

Mr. SHIPTON rehearsed, at some length, the manner in which concession had been made to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and her failure to comply with any of the promises made. The city had been exceeding liberal and had got very little in return. The city had vacated several streets at the "Point" under promise that Cherry alley would be widened to a sixty feet street, but it was never done. She had never made an accessible passage way to the Hospital as she had bromised to do. She had secured the sidewalk along Liberty street for nearly a mile, and had built coal vaults under the tracks from which she received an annual rental of several thousand dollars, but when asked to pay a municipal tax, she utterly refused to pay one cent. And so it would be with this agreement. The railroad company was profuse in promises but very slack in performance.

Mr. LITTELL said the improvement on a number of streets had already been commenced and unless this agreement was kept, the city would have to pay the bill.

Mr. HUNTER moved to postpone until next meeting. Lost.

The vote was then taken to suspend the rules, which was agreed to.

The yeas and nays were called on the final passage of the resolution. The result was as follows:

Yeas—Messr. Adams, Ahl, Atterbury, Braun, Bates, Benj. Darlington, Dannels, Doyle, Fox, Froelich, Goldthorpe, Harrison, Hays, Herron, Kernan, Keebler, Kestner, Mitchell, Meyer, Moore, Murray, A. G. McCandless, J. Guy McCandless, McClurg, McCune, McFarland, O'Neil, Rafferty, Shipton, Spahr and Zern—31.

Nays—Messrs. Aiken, Anderson, Bissell, Brown, Burgwin, Elder, Fetterman, Foster, House, Hunter, Knapp, Lloyd, Littell, MacFarlane, McMasters, Negley, Rayburn, Scully, Watson and Smith—20.

The chair decided the resolution passed.

Mr. BRAUN called up the resolution requesting the Civil and Mechanical Engineers at the Water Works to resign.

Mr. MITCHELL asked leave to call up first the ordinance in reference to extending the time for laying the tracks of the Peoples' Passenger Railway Company on Liberty street.

The rules were suspended and the ordinance failed for want of a sufficient number of affirmative votes—there being but thirty-six members voting in its favor. The roll being called the second time, thirty-seven members answered—one less than the requisite number.

Council then adjourned for want of a quorum.

Mr. Aull wished to recall from Select Council an ordinance establishing the grade of Thirty-third street, from Liberty avenue to the line of the bridge across the P. R. R. He said there was a serious error in it, which should be corrected. A motion was adopted recalling the ordinance as desired.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The following unfinished business of Common Council was disposed of: Ordinance locating Thirty-third street, from Liberty avenue to Laurel avenue. It was amended by striking out "Thirty-third" and inserting "A," and it was then passed. The grade ordinance was amended in the same manner and also passed. Ordinance grading Craig street, from Fifth avenue to Forbes street. Passed.

SECOND AVENUE AND THE P. AND C. R. R.

Unfinished business from Select Council was acted upon as follows:

Ordinance for adjusting the differences between the Second avenue Commission and the Connellsville railroad.

Mr. WEST offered an amendment providing that the bridges named in the ordinance shall be built by the railroad within three years, and in the event of the opening of new streets the erection of bridges over them shall be commenced within sixty days after the opening has been declared according to law and completed inside of six months.

Mr. THOMPSON offered as a substitute for the amendment an ordinance authorizing the Mayor to add to the contract with the P. & C. R. R. a clause providing that the Company shall commence the construction of the bridges within one year, and complete the same within three years, and in case of the failure of the company to erect them, the work shall be done by the city and the expense charged to the said Company.

After a long discussion a motion made by Mr. Wood to refer the ordinance back to the Road Committee was lost. Mr. West's amendment was next lost, when Mr. Morrison moved as an amendment to the original ordinance, that the provision whereby the city agrees to pay one-half the expense of the changing of the railroad tracks at the gas works, provided the cost does not exceed five thousand dollars, be stricken out. This amendment was also lost, when the ordinance was put to vote and passed finally.

Mr. THOMPSON then called up the supplemental ordinance above noted, and it was referred to the proper committee.

The following additional unfinished business from Select Council was concurred in. Report of Water Committee relative to the awarding of contracts for the laying of water pipe on Clay street and Lincoln avenue, &c. Resolution for election of member of Select Council from Twenty-seventh ward. Resolution requesting P. R. R., to suspend work on the Thirty-third street bridge. Report of Gas Lighting Committee and resolutions accompanying it. Resolution instructing City Treasurer to exonerate Home of the Destitute from payment of city and water tax. Pay roll of water department.

TRANSFER OF THE RESERVOIR CONTRACTS.

Mr. AULL called up the report of the Water Committee recommending the transfer of the Hiland avenue and Brilliant hill reservoir contracts from C. Howard & Son to Jacob H. Walter.

The chair stated that on the 5th of October an amendment was presented to the contract authorizing the transfer, and that both were referred to the Water Committee. He ruled that the principal paper could not be reached except through the amendment.

Mr. AULL moved to recall from the Water Committee the amendment presented on the 5th ult.

Mr. MILLIGAN stated that the substitute had not been found when the examination of the contents of the safe was made, and that Mr. Mitchell, Chairman of the Water Committee, had informed him that he had not seen the amendment. The speaker said it had been suppressed in some manner.

Mr. AULL's motion was carried and the member left the chamber to hunt up the substitute, or amendment.

Mr. WOOD called up a resolution offered by him at the beginning of the meeting and which is given above. He said that he understood some of the bonds had been paid off, but that the holders of the others had complained to him of their inability to get money on theirs. He didn't know that any chicanery had been displayed in the matter, but thought it would stand investigation. The resolution was passed and the chair appointed Messrs. Wood, Glass and Milligan on behalf of the Common branch.

SALARIES OF CITY OFFICERS.

MR. GLASS presented a resolution requesting the Finance Committee to take such action as will bring before them the report of a sub-committee on the reduction of the salaries of city officials and employees, which report was referred to the City Attorney in June last for his legal opinion. At this date the opinion has not been rendered, thus preventing the Finance Committee and Councils from taking such action as the necessity of the times demand. Passed.

MR. SHALTENBRAND, petition to notify the property holders to repair the board walk on Laurel avenue. Referred.

Also, resolution instructing the Street Committee to take action looking toward the erection of a board walk and steps as asked for by petition offered June 25, 1874. Referred.

Also, a resolution notifying the East End Gas Company to repair so much of Cedar street, Sixteenth ward, as they have impaired by laying gas mains. Referred.

SUSTAINING THE CHAIR.

Mr. AULL, at this point, returned into Council, bringing with him the preamble and resolutions offered during the early part of last month by Mr. Negley, as a substitute for the document authorizing the transfer of the reservoir contracts.

The chair again ruled that the substitute, after having been referred to a committee, could not again come before Council for action unless accompanied by a recommendation as to its disposal, from the committee. Considerable debate followed when an appeal was taken from the decision of the chair. Mr. Negley vacated his seat and Mr. Thompson assuming the Presidency put the question on the appeal and it resulted in the chair being sustained by a vote of 12 in favor to 10 against.

Mr. AULL submitted a report from the Water Committee recommending that the preamble and resolutions offered as a substitute be laid on the table. This report was prepared in the Council chamber during the discussion on the President's ruling, noted above.

Mr. MILLIGAN—Mr. President how many signatures are attached to that report?

The Chair examined the names and discovering that there were but nine, he ruled the report out of order, on the ground that it requires the signatures of fifteen members, composing a majority of the committee, to make a report legal.

On motion of Mr. Aull it was decided that when Common Council adjourns it adjourn to meet again on Thursday afternoon of this week, for the special purpose of considering the transfer of the reservoir contracts.

WITHHOLDING EXECUTION.

Mr. FULTON presented the following:

Resolved, That the Mayor be instructed to withhold the execution of the contract with the P. & C. R. R., contemplated in ordinance No. 680, until after the supplemental ordinance thereto shall have been acted upon by Councils, limiting the time for commencing and completing bridges.

On motion adjourned.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House—"Richelieu."

Mr. Lawrence Barrett, who is ranked among the best tragedians on the American stage, an actor of universal versatility and a sincere and conscientious actor, opened a two weeks' engagement at the Opera House last evening, playing the title role in "Richelieu." This drama is included in the repertory of nearly all first-class artists, such as Booth, Adams, McCullough, Barrett, and others we might enumerate, inasmuch as it is one of most graceful to the star that can possibly be found, as had it been written with the sole purpose of exalting one actor beyond the others, it could not well have been better handled. All stars who wish to create a distinct impression rely upon Richelieu to make it for them. Mr. Barrett is peculiarly fitted to realize the ideal of the author. A man of severe study and active brain, he is probably better qualified for sympathy with and personation of Richelieu than any other actor at present personating the character. He is a deliberate and earnest elocutionist, and measures the force of a line with general accuracy. He is a man of brain without sentiment, a lover of art, glowing with a warmth which springs not from himself, but from his observation of propriety. His perception of character is keen, and what few mannerisms he has are unlike any other actors. In moments of the profoundest passion, Mr. Barrett can master the situation and approach the climax of a speech with consummate skill, as in the "curse scene," and reserve the full force for the dramatic situation. His Richelieu is a firm and consistent portrait, and a closer approximation to the ideal of the play than probably any other we have seen. The charm of his acting lies in its utter naturalness. A feeling akin to disappointment at first possesses the mind when one finds that the well-beaten highway of the Richelieus is somewhat forsaken, but as the characterization progresses and the talent of the artist impresses itself more fully on the minds of the audience the old lines are forgotten and admiration becomes the predominant feeling. The great scenes of the third and fourth acts were never delivered with more signal effect than they were last evening. With him the character of Richelieu is a harmonious whole, complete in all its parts, and not a kaleidoscope of unconnected traits. It should be borne in mind, too, that Mr. Barrett is perhaps the youngest tragedian of any note who ever successfully personated the character in which he excels. Mr. Barrett as Richelieu is a success, and his popularity with the lovers of the legitimate drama was fully attested by the large and highly appreciative audience that assembled to witness his rendition of the character. The support given by the company was generally good, the Julie de Mortimer of Miss Cassie Troy deserving special mention.

"Hamlet" will be given to-night.

Library Hall.

On Friday afternoon next, at 2¼ o'clock, the Germania Orchestra will give the first of a series of twelve matinee concerts. In another column will be found the exceent programme, which embraces selections from the most eminent musical composers. Tickets can be purchased at Toerge's music store, and the book store of Gildenfenny & Hess, on Fifth avenue, also at the hall on concert to-day.

The Lecture To-night.

The opening lecture of the Mercantile Library Course will be given this evening by the great English orator George Dawson. He will talk of "Great Men's Wives," which is a subject that is made interesting in his hands. It will be one of the best lectures of the course.

MRS. BROWN, whose stage name is Miss Jane Coombs, concluded a very successful two weeks' engagement at the Pittsburgh Opera House on Saturday last. She is one of the most pleasing actresses on the American stage in almost any character, but the play of "The Sphinx," in which she enacted the part of the heroine, added nothing to her brilliant reputation.

WHEN the engagement of Mr. Barrett concludes at the Opera House, in this city, Miss Effie E. Ellsler will give the public a number of her charming characterizations. This young lady is a great favorite in Pittsburgh, and justly so, for her talents are of such a high order that she inevitably wins success and admiration at every place she appears. At the close of an engagement played recently at Youngstown, O., she was presented by her admirers with an elegant gold chain and locket.

THE BELLIGERENT ROMANS.

The Difficulty at the Armstrong Works Unsettled—The Sheriff Sends Out Another Force of Deputies.

The disturbance at the Armstrong works, opposite Buena Vista, remains unsettled, and Sheriff Hare has been called upon again to quell the difficulty.

It will be remembered that three deputies were dispatched to the scene of encounter on saturday last, by the Sheriff, and on their return they reported that the shooting comes entirely from the Italians, and that no resistance is made by the citizens on the Allegheny side of the river. On Saturday night and Sunday the foreigners used their guns rather freely by firing heavy volleys into Buena Vista, and the citizens have become alarmed to such an extent, that when the roar of musketry begins it is said that the women and children fly to the hills for safety. Yesterday Sheriff Hare sent another posse of deputies to the works to look into the difficulties, but as there seems to be no trouble within the bounds of this county, and no riotous characters within his jurisdiction it is hard for him to give the aid desired. On Sunday afternoon while the bells at Buena Vista were pealing for church, a volley of over one hundred shots came showering across the river from the Roman camp, accompanied by the wild, defiant yells, which characterized the skirmishing during the blackness of the preceding night. No return shots were fired, because there are not, it is stated, above a dozen miners in the whole village. Thus far no one has been hurt, but if the firing is allowed to continue uninterrupted, innocent persons may suffer grievous bodily harm.

It is alleged that the Romans spend so much time with their guns that operations in the coal mines are progressing rather slowly. The old miners used to take out from thirty-three to thirty-five cars of coal daily, but the Italians are unable to run out more than three cars a day, and it is thought by the people of the vicinity, that if all parties were to quiet down and allow the Italians to work steadily that Mr. Armstrong will discharge them at a very early day because of there being in the road and a confirmed nuisance.

Complaints are made against the owners of the mines for placing in the hands of the foreigners, guns, which they seemingly prefer handling to digging coal.

No doubt action will be taken in some quarter to put an end to these troubles at an early day, and it is to be hoped there will be no delay in bringing about the desired end.

THE CASE OF D. D. WILLIAMS.

A Large Delegation Arrives from Conneautville.

The case of D. D. Williams, the alleged defaulting cashier of the Conneautville bank, will come up for hearing in the United States Circuit Court this morning. Every preparation has been made for the trial, so it is thought there will be no delay. A large delegation of witnesses arrived from Conneautville yesterday to testify on both sides of the case, and the greatest interest is manifested as to the final result. In all probability the witnesses will be examined and the hearing concluded to-day.

To Be or Not to Be.

This is the question, whether it is better to buy your boots and shoes of R. Taggart, No 129 Federal street, at his low prices, saving yourselves 20 cents on the dollar, and in the purchase of a few pairs of boots or shoes, save sufficient for a new hat or a new bonnet, or buy other places and do without the hat or bonnet? Let parties who have so much money that they do not know how to get rid of it, buy at other houses, but the prudent and economical will see the wisdom of going to Taggart's for their boots and shoes.

COUNTERFEITERS UNEARTHED.

Arrest of Men Engaged in Manufacturing Spurious Nickels—Their Den in the Ninth Ward—Mr. Gustave Praetsch Taken Into Custody.

In yesterdays issue we referred to the arrest on Sunday of three young men, who gave their names as Andrew Miller, George Miller and Adam Wray, on suspicion of being concerned in the robbery of Borland's store, on Penn avenue, on the 25th of last month. Supicion was turned into certainty almost by finding some of the stolen goods on the persons of the men. A search warrant was placed in the hands of officers Gowdy and Lyons and thus armed they made an examination of the premises where the prisoners lived, at No. 573 Penn avenue, and in results the investigation proved to be a very important one. They found a large number of dies for making counterfeit five and three cent nickels, several bottles of arsenic, two crucibles, and metal from which the coins were made. There were also a number of finishing plates, and other implements used in the counterfeiting business. The articles were conveyed to the Mayor's office, where they now are. U. S. District Attorney Reed was informed of the discovery, and he detailed Detective Tom Pender to further work up the case. The two men, noted above, who gave their names as Milller, told falsehoods. Their names are August and Emil Lagab, and they are brothers. Detective Pender visited the house on Penn avenue, and arrested Albert Ratzky and Gustave Praetsch. Against these two gentlemen nothing positive is yet known, but to all who are familiar with the reputation of Mr. Praetsch, it would seem almost impossible that he should be concerned in the manufacture of spurious coin. Mr. Praetsch occupied a room in one of the upper stories of the building in which the counterfeiter's materials were found, but he had only been there since Monday of last week. The Lagab brothers, who are now in jail, are sons of the step-daughter of Mr. Praetsch, and their sister is the wife of Mr. Ratzky, who is an insurance agent. Mr. Praetsch, whose wife is dead, sold his house a week ago yesterday, and until he could procure suitable lodgings he went to reside with his step daughter. He protests his innocence of any connection whatever with the business of counterfeiting, and asserts his entire ignorance of the presence of counterfeiting machinery in the same house with him. Mr. Ratzky and his wife occupy two rooms in the building and he says he knew nothing of the doings of his brothers-in-law. Constantine Lagab, the father of the men in jail, returned home about two weeks ago but it is said that since the arrest of his sons he has disappeared. The officers desire to effect his arrest also. Mr. Praetsch is a gentleman well-known in this city, is a member of the firm of Praetsch, Strouse & Co., brokers, was until recently cashier of the Tenth ward bank and is a member of the Central Board of Education. In company with Mr. Ratzky he was last night taken before District Attorney Reed, but U. S. Commissioners Gamble and McCandless both being absent from the city, and Acting Mayor McMasters not to be found, they could not give bail and were committed to the Central Station House until this morning when they will doubtless be released on furnishing the requisite security.
